

Humboldt State University Department of Social Work

Pupil Personnel Services Credential

Specialization in School Social Work (PPSC-SSW)

Program Handbook

Note: The PPSC-SW program at HSU is a Post-MSW program.

Introduction

The Humboldt State University (HSU) Department of Social Work offers a post-MSW Pupil Personnel Services Credential with a specialization in School Social Work (PPSC-SSW) for persons holding a Master of Social Work degree from a program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. The PPSC-SSW program builds upon the breadth and depth of the MSW curriculum, by providing specialized instruction to develop the knowledge, skills, and values required to effectively provide social work services within public school systems. Social workers who successfully complete the program will be eligible to apply to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) for the Pupil Personnel Services Credential in School Social Work.

This handbook is a guide for persons seeking admission to and/or already enrolled in the Humboldt State University Department of Social Work's PPSC-SSW program.

The Pupil Personnel Services Credential The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) issues Pupil Personnel Services Credentials (PPSC) with authorizations in four service areas: school counseling, school psychology, school social work, and school child welfare and attendance services. Social workers who work in California K-12 Public Schools are usually required to hold a PPSC with a specialization in School Social Work.

The PPSC-SSW authorizes the holder of the credential to perform the following duties:

- Assess home, school, personal, and community factors that may affect a student's learning.
- Identify and provide intervention strategies for children and their families, including counseling, case management, and crisis intervention.

- Consult with teachers, administrators, and other school staff regarding social and emotional needs of students.
- Coordinate family, school, and community resources on behalf of students.

The PPSC-SSW Program at HSU The PPSC-SSW Program at HSU is designed for students who have already completed their MSW and who can demonstrate that they have completed internship hours that satisfy the State of California's Commission on Teacher Credentialing requirements for the School Social Work credential.

HSU's PPSC-SSW program enables social workers to develop specialized competencies to provide effective social work services within public school systems. Students must successfully complete all CTC PPSC school social work field placement requirements. The field requirements, whether completed as part of an MSW program or acquired through post-MSW field placements, must be documented and verified. In addition, students must complete two courses offered during Humboldt State's summer session through the College of eLearning and Extended Education. These courses are taught by HSU Department of Social Work faculty with PPS credentials and experience working in school settings.

PPSC-SSW Recommendation Process

Once candidates have submitted their application materials, the Coordinator will review them for completeness and accuracy. Once accepted into the program, candidates are required to pass two three unit courses, Social Work Practice in School Settings I (SW 670) and Social Work Practice in School Settings II (SW 671). These courses are offered each summer through HSU's College of eLearning and Extended Education (see course descriptions below). Once candidates have successfully passed these courses and grades have been posted, the Coordinator will complete the recommendation for a clear credential on the CTC site. Candidates will receive an email notification from the CTC to complete the process.

SW 670: Social Work Practice in School Settings I focuses on a macro level framework for social work within California K-12 Public School systems. Students explore challenges faced by public schools from a systems perspective, including influences of federal statutory and regulatory requirements, state and local policies, community demands, and the interface with other child serving systems including tribal governments, child welfare, probation, and mental health. Students become familiar with the historical legacy, structure, legal mandates, and fiscal processes that drive public education in California and their effect on students' academic experiences. Issues relevant to school social work include educational equity, attendance, discipline and due process, collaboration, community development, organizational change and leadership, culturally responsive education systems, trauma-informed education, and school culture that promotes resiliency in students.

SW 671: Social Work Practice in School Settings II utilizes an ecological systems framework to explore social work within California K-12 Public School systems. Students explore the day-to-day aspects of school social work, including issues around confidentiality; social workers as mandated reporters; collaborating with students, school staff, caregivers, and families; attendance and behavior management systems; crisis intervention; psycho-educational groups; bullying and violence prevention programs; data management and the development of meaningful outcome measures; time management; professional development, and self-care.

Resolution of Concerns and Problems in Field Education

The Field Education Program is committed to helping students maximize their learning opportunities and to strengthen the communities served. We are also committed to supporting the development of our placement sites and Field Instructors, recognizing that the role of supporting and guiding the professional development of students is an additional commitment beyond the primary focus of employment duties.

In addition to supporting students in developing professional communication skills with clients and other professionals in the context of the placement site, there must also be effective communication between the student and their Field Instructor/supervisor. The Field Education Program encourages early identification of challenges so that a resolution and/or corrective action can be planned as soon as possible. This requires open, direct, and ongoing communication, not only between student and Field Instructor/supervisor but also with the Faculty Liaison and potentially Director of Field Education.

The internship placement is an educational context, required for the academic success of the student. As such, students internship activities and interactions fall under the various educational rights and responsibilities as assigned by the University. This includes the right to be free from discrimination based on protected status and to reasonable accommodation in relationship to access to educational activities. More specific information regarding student's rights and responsibilities can be reviewed in the Policies section in the back of this Handbook, or by visiting the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities website: <https://studentrights.humboldt.edu/>

Perceived discrimination may occur in situations where a student feels a component of their identity is the subject of judgment or questioning. A placement site may claim that they didn't have the room or time for an intern, or that they had a change of heart. In such a scenario the student's concerns should be addressed. This may include an investigation or group discussion with the site supervisor, student and Department of Social Work personnel. The placement site will be noted and remembered for any questionable actions, and these actions will be considered during future placements. If an incident of discrimination occurs at a placement site, the Department of Social Work will consider ending the partnership with the site. This will be done with little or no question if:

- The discriminatory act breaks federal, state law, or educational code.
- The placement site refuses to educate itself about prejudice, bias and discrimination and demonstrate that it is a safe and open place for interns.
- There are multiple incidents of perceived or suspected discrimination.

Performance issues--personal and educational-- also occasionally surface in the field placement. Early intervention is essential to support students, the agency/tribal settings, and the client's/communities interests. Issues, concerns, and problems in field education can generally be categorized by one or more of the following:

- Situational: chronic transportation difficulties, prolonged illness, personal crisis, unreliable child-care, etc.
- Environmental: lack of adequate opportunity provided by the agency/tribal setting to accomplish learning objectives, changes in agency/tribal program due to funding and/or personnel, limited or unsatisfactory field instruction, differing communication styles between the student and the Field Instructor, etc.

- Non-academic/Unprofessional Behavior: ethical violations (NASW Code of Ethics), unprofessional behavior, unsuccessful completion of projects or tasks assigned, lack of ability or motivation to learn social work skills, persistent lateness, not communicating if missing internship days, disrespect for clients and/or other professionals, unable to utilize feedback effectively, threatening or criminal behavior, etc.

Situational Issues

If there is an issue that arises during the field placement in which the student is having difficulty fulfilling responsibilities due to chronic transportation problems, illness, personal crisis, unreliable childcare, etc. a resolution with a timeframe must be settled upon by mutual agreement between the student and Field Instructor. The Faculty Liaison should be informed so she/he can monitor the situation to ensure that progress is being made and the student is fulfilling his or her responsibilities.

Environmental Issues

Occasionally problems in fieldwork are related to the agency/tribal setting or the Field Instructor's ability to provide adequate learning experiences. The student will address his or her concerns with the Field Instructor first, clarifying the problem area or issue and identifying possible strategies for improving the situation. Either the student or the Field Instructor may request the Faculty Liaison to be present for this discussion.

Non-Academic/Professional Behavior Issues

Evaluation of the student's academic and professional behavior in the field placement is viewed as a process jointly undertaken by the student, the Field Instructor, and the Faculty Liaison. The purpose of evaluation is to provide ongoing feedback and to determine if the student has met the course learning objectives/outcomes and adhered to the agency's/tribal setting's personnel practices, policies and procedures, as well as the social work professional code of ethics. If a student is not meeting the minimum expectations, please involve the Faculty Liaison ASAP to develop a plan to help the student improve her or his performance (see performance contract, page 46). If the situation is deemed serious, please contact the Faculty Liaison and/or the Field Director immediately.

IF THE FIRST STEP (LEVEL 1) OF DIRECT COMMUNICATION DOES NOT RESOLVE THE CONCERN OR PROBLEM, THE ACADEMIC STUDENT SUPPORT PROCESS WILL IMMEDIATELY MOVE TO LEVEL 2 AND IN SOME CASES LEVEL 3.

Academic Student Support and Review Process

The Department of Social Work at Humboldt State University is committed to our students' professional education and development in a supportive learning environment. In accordance with the requirements of The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), the department has designed the Academic/Professional Support and Review process to facilitate student success, both academically and with regard to professional behavior. Any student or faculty member may initiate this process. Academic/Professional Support and Review is not a substitution for University policies and procedures (<http://www.humboldt.edu/studentrights>) but is the preferred departmental procedure.

Results of this meeting will be documented in the student's file and will include a formal letter detailing the Department of Social Work's requirements for resolution of the concern.

Support Process

1. Level 1 – Face to Face Meeting between Student, Field Instructor, and Faculty Liaison: Support is offered to students experiencing challenges in meeting expectations of field, the program, or the university. Typically, this level of support is sufficient to resolve concerns. Students are encouraged to access their Field Instructor, Faculty Liaison and/or their advisor's support whenever they have a concern related to their own performance or the educational environment. At this level, the Field Instructor, Faculty Liaison and/or advisor may recommend behavioral changes to the student, accommodations, modifications to assignments, and/or the provision of additional support services. Support at this level may be documented in the student's file, but is not required.
2. Level 2 – Face to Face Meeting between the Student, the Faculty Liaison, Field Director, Field Instructor (if appropriate), and the Student's Advisor: At this level, the Field Director, Faculty Liaison, Field Instructor (if appropriate) and/or advisor may recommend additional behavioral changes to the student, accommodations or modifications to the placement, and/or the provision of additional support services. A formal plan will be developed and timeline for behavioral change, further accommodations, modifications to the student's placement, referral to university disciplinary procedures, or re-evaluation of a student's suitability for the social work program will be addressed. A recommendation to find another placement might also be considered. Results of this meeting will be documented in the student's file.
3. Level 3 – Face to Face Meeting between the Student, the Faculty Liaison, Field Director, the Student's Advisor, and BASW or MSW Director: If the issue is not resolved in the specified timeframe, the Program Director (BASW or MSW) will be included. In this meeting, the Student, Faculty Liaison, advisor, Field Director, and Program Director will review the results of the formal plan. A recommendation to terminate the placement will be made by the Field Director including a reevaluation of a student's suitability for the social work program. Results of this meeting will be documented in the student file and forwarded to the Administrative Team (Chair, MSW Director, BASW Director, and the Field Director).

Review Process

Any party may submit a signed letter to the Administrative Team requesting a review of the recommendation. The letter should indicate the concern with the prior recommendations/actions, and suggest further steps toward resolution of the concern. The student may bring an advocate to this meeting.

Results of this meeting will be documented in the student's file and will include a formal letter detailing the Department of Social Work's requirements for resolution of the concern. If any party believes that further action is warranted, he/she may utilize university grievance policy and procedure.

The following is a list of some of the possible reasons a student may be removed from a field placement:

- Is not able to understand and maintain confidentiality
- Does not abide by the NASW Code of Ethics
- An attempt to harm someone else
- An attempt to harm oneself
- Repeated tardiness at the agency/tribal setting and/or tardiness without notification
- Repeated absences from the agency/tribal setting and/or absence without notification
- Repeated change in scheduled field hours without approval
- Illegal behavior during field hours
- Use of alcohol or other non-medicinal drugs during field hours
- Below average performance as documented in formal written evaluation
- Chronically does not perform and complete assigned tasks in a timely manner
- Violation of agency policy
- Inappropriate behavior and language

Closure

Regardless of the reasons for early removal, it is expected that the student with direction from the Field Instructor, will carry out closure with clients, co-workers, and the agency/tribal setting.

Any plans for closure should include: the exact date of removal, the timing and method used to end planned contact with individuals and/or groups; the way in which the student will fulfill other agency/tribal setting obligations (completion of summaries needed for case transfer or closing, for example); and completion of necessary separation procedures (sign forms, returning keys and/or identification badge, etc.). It is expected that the closure process will be done in a way that continues to support the student's learning and the best interests of the clients and communities served.

A REASONABLE ATTEMPT SHOULD BE MADE TO FOLLOW THE RESOLUTION PROCESS. NOT FOLLOWING THE PROCESS CAN RESULT IN NO LONGER BEING CONSIDERED AS A PLACEMENT IN THE FIELD EDUCATION PROGRAM.

Performance Contract

The use of a performance contract is highly encouraged to document the changes needed to help the student understand what specifically must change by when and to clearly develop a written path to success. The performance contract can be found in the Forms section of this handbook.

Failure or No Credit in Field Coursework

Students may receive No Credit in Field Coursework either due to failure to complete required placement expectations or due to failure to meet academic requirements established by their field seminar faculty.

For BASW students SW 456 and SW 455 are co-requisite classes, meaning students must pass both courses to move progress in field.

For MSW students field activities and seminar expectations are combined in SW 555 or SW 655.

For all students, the field placement experience is structured as a year long placement expectation, and students must complete the fall field seminar requirements (CR) in order to progress to spring seminar and internship activities.

Occasionally a student may need to take a leave in the spring semester after having completed their fall field seminar and placement expectations. In this case, there is no guarantee that the student may return to the original confirmed internship placement. Returning students must begin communication with the Field Director early in the fall semester at the latest in order to secure an approved field placement for the spring semester. Enrollment in spring semester field seminar coursework is pending the confirmation from the Field Director of an approved field placement.

Student Rights and Responsibilities on the University Campus

The student is responsible for reviewing and complying with all HSU student policies. A list of all Student Rights and Responsibilities can be found on HSU's website, here:

<http://studentrights.humboldt.edu/>

The Social Work Program is an academic community dedicated to the ideas of social justice. Its faculty, staff, and students aim to not simply espouse social justice, but also to practice it in our daily interactions. As part of that commitment, we are working to ensure that the program is an environment in which discriminatory, harassing, unethical and unprofessional behavior does not occur to any person for any reason. We must work together to create a safe environment for all members of our diverse community.

The policies of HSU are aimed at helping to ensure a safe and supportive environment that allows for maximum learning for everyone involved. The department attempts to utilize informal consultative process outlined in the Academic/Professional Support and Review process to address concerns regardless of their etiology. This policy is not a substitute for your rights and the procedures outlined in general HSU policy. However, we believe that many of the challenges that occur in academic and field experiences provide educational opportunities. We hope you will take personal responsibility for addressing your behavior to make this a supportive and productive academic experience and use the student support process when appropriate to aid you in this process.

The faculty of the Department of Social Work regularly discusses the milieu of the program and concerns regarding overall issues and student specific issues. The results of these meetings may result in activation of the student support process in order to address concerns that faculty have. The student support process is automatically initiated when certain events occur (e.g. a student is placed on academic probation, is removed from a field setting or does not pass an academic class). Students are encouraged to also activate the support process if they have concerns about a course, their performance, or the performance of a faculty member.

Student Rights in Relation to Harassment

Harassment is behavior that intimidates or demeans others. It can be verbal, written, or physical. If you experience harassment at the University or in an agency during your field experience, talk with someone you trust. Your Faculty Field Liaison, Field Director, the BASW or MSW Program Director and the University Dean of Student or Campus Title IX Coordinator are people who can help you. Talking about harassment is one way to stop it and prevent its recurrence!

If you experience harassment because of your race, gender, religion, ethnic background, disability or sexuality, you may discuss the issue with any of the individuals or agencies listed below. They are here for your support and protection.

Title IX Notice of Non-Discrimination

Introduction

The California State University does not discriminate on the basis of gender, which includes sex and gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation in its education programs or activities. Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and certain other federal and state laws, prohibit discrimination on the basis of gender or sexual orientation in employment, as well as in all education programs and activities operated by the University (both on and off campus). The protection against discrimination on the basis of gender or sexual orientation includes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and gender based dating and domestic violence and stalking.

- Sexual Assault Policy
- Rights and Options for Victims of Sexual Violence, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, and Stalking
- Notice of Non-Discrimination on the Basis of Sex
- Myths and Facts About Sexual Violence

Safety of the HSU Campus Community is Primary

The university's primary concern is the safety of its campus community members. The use of alcohol or drugs never makes the victim at fault for sexual discrimination, harassment or violence; therefore, victims should not be deterred from reporting incidents of sexual violence out of a concern that they might be disciplined for related violations of drug, alcohol or other university policies. Except in extreme circumstances, victims of sexual violence shall not be subject to discipline for related violations of the Student Conduct Code.

Information Regarding the HSU Campus' Criminal and Civil Consequences of Committing Acts of Sexual Violence

Individuals alleged to have committed sexual assault may face criminal prosecution by law enforcement and may incur penalties as a result of civil litigation. In addition, employees and students may face discipline/sanctions at the university. Employees may face sanctions up to and including dismissal from employment, per established CSU policies and provisions of applicable collective bargaining unit agreements.

Students charged with sexual discrimination, harassment or violence will be subject to discipline, pursuant to the California State University Student Conduct Procedures (see Executive Order 1098) and will be subject to appropriate sanctions. In addition, during any investigation, the university may implement interim measures in order to maintain a safe and non-discriminatory educational environment. Such measures may include immediate interim suspension from the university, required move from university-owned or affiliated housing, adjustment to course schedule, or prohibition from contact with parties involved in the alleged incident.

Mandated Reporting, Sexualized Violence Disclosures & CSU Interpretation of Title IX

In the event that you choose to write or speak about having survived sexualized violence, including rape, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking and specify that this violence occurred while you were an HSU student, federal and state education laws require that, as your instructor, I notify the Dean of Students, Randi Darnall Burke. She will contact you to let you know about accommodations and support services at HSU and possibilities for holding accountable the person who harmed you.

If you do not want the Dean of Students notified, instead of disclosing this information to your instructor, you can speak confidentially with the following people on campus and in the community. They can connect you with support services and discuss options for holding the perpetrator accountable.
